This was decided upon inasmuch as many of the railroads involved had their principal office at that point, and much of the necessary information can be secured there. The plans of the committee are not perfected further than that although it is probable that before the summer is over the committee will find it desirable to go as far west as Duluth, at least if not over the entire neglit of the Canadian Pacific road.

It was at the Request of the Senate—Not a Fit Man for the Place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—The President to-day withdrew from the Sen ate the nomination of Eugene Schuyler, to be Assistant Secretary of State, which was made on the thirteenth instant. It is learned that the Committee on Foreign Relations, after consideration of the case, asked that the nomination be withdrawn, coupling the request, it is understood, with an intimation that otherwise he would be reported adversely.

This action was taken on account of an assault made by Mr. Schuyler in his book entitled "American Diplomacy" upon the late Elihu B. Washburne, reflecting upon his official conduct while Secretary of State, together with reflections upon the administration of President Grant, and the Senate, and also, it is said, on account of charges affecting Mr. Schuyler's personal conduct in Europe.
